Geeks For Geeks Quiz Results

19 June 2022

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the 'React.js Quiz | Set-1' results on the GeeksforGeeks website. The URL in the address bar is `geeksforgeeks.org/react-js-quiz-set-1/?ref=gcse`. The page features a navigation bar with links for Courses, Tutorials, Jobs, and Practice, along with a search icon and a 'Sign In' button. Below the navigation bar, there are category links: Data Structures, Algorithms, Interview Preparation, Topic-wise Practice, C++, Java, Python, Competitive Programming, and Machine Learning. On the left side, a 'Table of Contents' sidebar lists various content types like 'Write an Article', 'Write an Interview Experience', 'Interview Preparation', 'Practice @Geeksforgeeks', 'Data Structures', 'Algorithms', 'Programming Languages', and 'Web Technologies'. The main content area displays the quiz title 'React.js Quiz | Set-1' and a 'Discuss it' link. A light blue box highlights the 'Question 15 Explanation', stating that the `findDOMNode()` function in React.js is used to get the DOM node when the component is rendered, taking a single parameter as a component. Below this, a green box announces 'You have completed 15/15 questions. Your accuracy is 93%.' There are two tabs labeled '1' and '2'. A text prompt asks users to write code in comments and use `ide.geeksforgeeks.org` to generate a link. A 'Load Comments' button is visible. On the right side, a list of articles is shown, including 'Types of Complexity Classes | P, NP, CoNP, NP hard and NP complete', 'Top 10 Programming Languages to Learn in 2022', 'How to connect MongoDB with ReactJS?', 'SDE SHEET - A Complete Guide for SDE Preparation', and 'DSA Sheet by Love Babbar'. At the bottom right, there is a 'ROCHESTER' banner with a close button. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows various application icons and the system clock indicating 21:01 on 2022/06/19.
